

Preceptor Biography

Name: Amber N. Chiplinski, Pharm.D., BCPS

Primary Practice site: Clinical Pharmacist- Martinsburg VAMC: Internal Medicine, Critical Care
Clinical Assistant Professor of Pharmacy, West Virginia University

School of pharmacy: West Virginia University School of Pharmacy, Class of 2008

Residency program: PGY1 Pharmacy Practice Residency, Penn State Hershey Medical Center

Usual daily activities: ICU multidisciplinary rounds, pharmacokinetic monitoring of narrow therapeutic medications, medication reconciliation, responding to rapid responses and cardiac arrests, attending committee meetings, precepting students and residents, teaching at the WVU School of Pharmacy.

What you like most about working for the Martinsburg VAMC: The relationships and mutual trust we share with our physicians and ability to work under a scope of practice that gives us the ability order and monitor antibiotics, anticoagulants, and parenteral nutrition.

Other interests:

Pharmacy: Infectious diseases, nutrition, critical care, and nephrology

Personal: Cooking, shopping, reading, and baby Chiplinski that is due in April!